Remote reception is a remote appointment with a doctor similar to a regular reception and takes place remotely, the price is usually the price of the reception according to the price list.

Kela reimburses part of the entrance fee and, with a doctor's referral, part of the examinations covered by Kela.

Antioxidant clinics use Kela's direct reimbursement, so the reimbursement can be deducted directly at the checkout if the customer has to show the reel card.

More information on reimbursement of medical expenses is available on Kela website
